MY GITHUB PROJECTS

1. Book Recommendation system - Using Machine Learning
- We had a collection of Datasets which contains users information, userratings, Previous purchase history, Author details.
- Performed Data manipulation using " Pandas ".
- Implemented the machine learning models such as Logistic Regression, Naive Bayers, Random Forest.
- Performed Data Visualization for better understanding using Matplotlib and Seaborn in python
- Outcome:- By Using different machine learning models, we achieved better accuracy to recommend the books to users.

2. Results Notifier
- Results Notifier is used to send the Jntuk results automatically to the registered users
- The application is mainly developed by using Selenium
- Selenium is a tool which automates web applications and it was supported by many browsers
